Use a period to end a sentence or when you are using abbreviations (Mr., Mrs. Tues.). When your sentence comes to a stop and it is a complete sentence, use the period.

Example:
I like to play outside on sunny days.

Use the exclamation mark when you are referring to a very strong emotion. Use it when something is being expressed and you’re very angry, very excited or very scared.

Example:
Dial 911 now!

Use a question mark when you are looking for an answer. A question mark is always used when asking a question. It is always used at the end of a sentence that asks a direct question.

Example:
Will you please pass me the butter?
